10 A RESOLUTION CONCERNING THE STATE’S DRIVER’S EXAMINATION

20 WHEREAS: On average, applicants fail the test at least once before passing; and,

30 WHEREAS: After many failed attempts, such drivers are still allowed to drive on city 40 streets and highways; and,

50 WHEREAS: An inability to pass such an exam multiple times presents a faulty trend in 60 the potential driver; and,

70 WHEREAS: MVA states “If you fail to pass the road test, you can try again the 80 following business day. You can do this up to three times. After that, you’ll need to wait 90 at least one week to try again” implying no restrictions on how many times a test can be 100 taken and/or failed; and,

110 WHEREAS: Correcting the examination ethics will help lower this trend.

120 THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: That the Maryland Student Legislature urges the 130 Maryland General Assembly to reform MVA examination to require further schooling if 140 an applicant fails the driver’s test 3 times.

150 BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: For the MVA to require at least a 3 month waiting 160 period before an applicant may apply again after three repeated failures.
